

Agenda

Right-Wing Extremism – A European Challenge

A new initiative of the Bertelsmann Stiftung in cooperation with the Center for Applied Policy Research (CAP) at the Ludwig Maximilian University in Munich

Workshop for Experts

May 31, 2007

Conference venue:

dbb forum
Friedrichstr. 169-170
10117 Berlin
Germany
Tel. +49 30 40 81 45 00
Fax. +49 30 40 81 45 99

09:00 am Welcome and Introduction

Ulrich Kober, Bertelsmann Stiftung, Gütersloh

Britta Schellenberg, Center for Applied Policy Research (CAP), Munich

09:15 am What do we know about right-wing extremism in Europe? An exploration of a European challenge

Prof. Dr. Michael Minkenberg, European University Viadrina, Frankfurt/Oder

Discussion – Moderation:

Dr. Orkan Kösemen, Bertelsmann Stiftung, Gütersloh

10:45 am Coffee break

11:00 am Between extremism and mainstream – Trends in hate crimes in the OSCE region 2006

Dr. Kathrin Meyer, Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe (OSCE), Warsaw

Experiences from various countries

Prof. Dr. Meindert Fennema, University of Amsterdam

Dr. Jean-Yves Camus, Institut de Relations Internationales et Strategiques (IRIS), Paris

Dr. Christopher Husbands, London School of Economics and Political Science

Discussion – Moderation:

Christal Morehouse, Bertelsmann Stiftung, Gütersloh

01:00 pm Lunch

02:00 pm A comparative approach on successful strategies to combat right-wing extremism

Britta Schellenberg, Center for Applied Policy Research (CAP), Munich

Discussion – Moderation:

Ulrich Kober, Bertelsmann Stiftung, Gütersloh

03:30 pm

Next steps of the initiative of the Bertelsmann Stiftung and the Center for Applied Policy Research

Dr. Orkan Kösemen, Bertelsmann Stiftung, Gütersloh

approx.
04:00 pm

End of meeting